

AP Japanese Language and Culture Professional Development Workshop Stipend

The College Board's Advanced Placement Program[®] is offering financial assistance to participate in a full day workshop for AP[®] Japanese Language and Culture held in conjunction with the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) Annual Convention in Orlando, FL. This financial assistance is possible through a generous grant from the Japan Foundation Los Angeles. The AP Japanese workshop is a pre-conference workshop to be held on Thursday, November 21, 2013, from 9:00 am to 4:30 pm. Financial assistance in the amount of $350.00 will be awarded to cover fees for (1) the AP Japanese workshop and (2) registration for the ACTFL convention November 22 – 24, 2013. To attend the workshop, participants must register for and attend the convention.

About the Workshop

In this College Board workshop, participants will engage in a professional exchange of ideas surrounding the AP Japanese Language and Culture course. Participants will examine 2013 Free Response Questions, scoring guidelines, and related samples. Participants will discuss appropriate classroom materials, learn techniques and content-specific strategies that can be incorporated into the AP classroom to help students prepare to be successful in their AP course work, consider AP curriculum and syllabus development, and become acquainted with resources to support AP teachers. Portions of this workshop will be conducted in Japanese. Continuing Education Units are available for workshop participants. Further information about AP Japanese Language and Culture can be found at apcentral.collegeboard.com.

About the Presenter

This workshop will be presented by Yo Azama. Yo currently teaches Japanese at North Salinas High School in California and is a team leader of the Monterey Bay Foreign Language Project. He also serves as a College Board Advisor for AP Japanese Language and Culture Development Committee. He has conducted numerous presentations and seminars regionally and nationally on various topics including Motivational Curriculum & Syllabus Design, Classroom Management, and Effective use of Technology in World Language Classroom. His teaching has been featured in the Teaching Foreign Languages K-12 Video Library and he is the 2012 ACTFL National Language Teacher of the Year.

About the Convention

The Annual Convention and World Languages Expo of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) will be held Friday, November 22 through Sunday, November 24, 2012 at the Orange County Convention Center in Orlando, FL with Pre-Convention

Workshops scheduled on Thursday, November 21. The ACTFL Convention features over 600 educational sessions and events covering the whole spectrum of the foreign language profession. The entire selection of sessions is designed to provide attendees with an exciting array of sessions and events to further their knowledge and help them be better teachers or administrators. The ACTFL Convention is a national event bringing together over 6,000 attendees from all languages, levels and assignments within the profession. Further information about the convention can be found at www.actfl.org.
